Raiding Activities are Reported Along Arras
Front, British Carrying Out Several Enterprises With Great Success

(International News Service.)
Paris, June 22.—The Germans are carrying out an extremely violent counter offensive against the French on the Aisne river and in Champagne. The official report issued by the war office today dwelt upon the intensity of the fighting.
After a heavy bombardment the Germans attacked the French positions at Mont Teton during the night over a front of 400 yards. Advanced French positions were entered but later counter attacks drove the Germans out. East of Vauxhallon the artillery duelling was extended. German surprise attacks in Lorraine failed.
(International News Service.)
London, June 22.—There has been a falling off of British losses on the western front since the British victory in Belgium three weeks ago. This statement was made on the authority of Gen. Maurice, director of operations at the war office.
Gen. Maurice said further that the British now hold 78 miles of front in France.

Flying Machine Is Sighted Over Cities

Did you see the flying machine?
What was said by many citizens to be a flyer was observed shortly before 2 o'clock going swiftly up the Tennessee river to the east of the Twin Cities.
Several machines have been seen going over the Twin Cities during the past year. Some of them are believed to be from the United States aviation school at Pensacola, Fla., on long trial flights.

SENATE PAYS HOMAGE TO BELGIAN MISSION

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 22.—The United States senate paid the homage of sympathetic Americans this afternoon to the first nation to resist the German scourge.
The senate gave an ovation second only to that given Marshal Joffre, to the Belgian mission, and gave renewed applause as Baron Moncheur hurled defiance again at the depollers of his native land and predicted a day of reckoning.
With equal enthusiasm the senate laid aside its customary restraint and applauded vociferously as Vice President Marshall welcomed the Belgians, predicting "that Belgium shall rise, her weepings shall end, her mournings of the day of joy shall break over her devastated lands."

DECATUR RED CROSS COMMITTEE GETS DOWN TO WORK TO RAISE CITY'S $10,000

DISTRICT IS DIVIDED OFF BY CHAIRMAN C. C. HARRIS AND MEMBERS GO TO WORK IN EARNEST.

WORKERS ARE OPTIMISTIC

ANNOUNCE THAT ANY SUM WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR WAR RELIEF FUND, NO MATTER HOW SMALL.
The Decatur committee, headed by Col. C. C. Harris, to raise the $10,000 allotted for the American Red Cross is making a house to house canvass today as a result of a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the City National Bank.
Col. Harris districted the city and the committee is acting as a unit to raise its part of the war fund. The committee is doing its work with fervor and each member is striving today to achieve the desired end.
Decatur citizens have never been known to fall in a good cause, so the committee is very optimistic. The war affects all, both young and old, rich or poor, and as the Red Cross not only help to alleviate the suffering, but helps to win the war, it is thought that all will take an interest in the work.
All will not be allowed to go to the trenches, but all can help the Red Cross throughout the war. The committee announces that it will accept a donation no matter how large or small.
The committee, which is composed of C. C. Harris, chairman; Will Wyker, J. W. Cunningham, J. A. Nelson, Rufus Peerson, W. M. Bailey and Foster H. Pointer, appeals to the generosity and for the hearty co-operation of every Decatur citizen that the allotted part of the war fund may be raised at once.

EARLY PASSAGE OF BILL TO CUT COST OF COAL FORESEEN

SENATE COMMITTEE TAKES UP MEASURE TO REGULATE THE FUEL INDUSTRY.

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 22.—The first steps toward congressional action to throttle the coal trust and bring down the price of fuel were taken today when the senate interstate commerce committee today began consideration of the Pomerene resolution authorizing the president to fix coal prices, and if necessary to take over the coal mines and operate them.
In a statement today Senator Pomerene declared that immediate action by congress is necessary to prevent analysis of the industries of the country because of the exorbitant prices of coal. He declared there is really no scarcity of coal and the high prices are simply the result of practices of coal dealers.
Senator Pomerene's resolution has the backing of the president and the interstate commerce commission.
The committee expected today to have brief hearings and probably recommend its adoption in the form of an amendment to the pending food bill.

PERSHING PREPARES AMERICAN ARMY ON TREMENDOUS SCALE

Mighty Stores of Food and Ammunition Are Accumulated and Engineering Problems
Stagger Imagination

MILITARY CITY AS LARGE AS CHICAGO

French People Watch Great American Soldier
In Amazement and Expect Wonders of Expeditionary Force in War

(International News Service.)
Paris, June 22.—Like the head of a great corporation, Gen. John J. Pershing, the American commander, is conducting his war plans on the lines of twentieth century business efficiency.
The busiest corner in Paris today may be said to be the United States army headquarters on the Rue de Constantine. Everything pertaining to the preparation is being carried along upon a gigantic scale and it is evident from the work under way that the United States is going into the war with all her might. Preparations are under way to feed a huge army.
Piles of wooden huts are being constructed. Surveys are being made for railways and highways, mighty stores of food and ammunition are being accumulated, sanitary precautions are being carried out on an almost unprecedented scale. The American camps in France eventually will aggregate a city as large as Chicago.
The engineering problems alone stagger the imagination with their magnitude. There is to be a concentration of authority, and arrangements are being made to bring all the red cross activities under the direction of General Pershing and his staff.
Now that the excitement attending General Pershing and his arrival has died down the French people are taking a critical and practical view of America's aid and it is not too much of an exaggeration to say that the French are expecting wonders.

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 22.—At the request of Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Chairman Denman of the shipping board, the federal trade commission will undertake an investigation looking toward the fixing of an equitable price for steel.
This announcement was made by the commission which will be aided by James A. Farrell of the United States Steel corporation.

AMERICAN GUNNERS "GET" ANOTHER SUB

(International News Service.)
Baltimore, June 22.—Another German submarine has been sunk by the gun crew of an American vessel, according to the commander of an American ship which has arrived at an Atlantic port.
The U-boat was sent down after a thrilling fight with an American vessel, a freighter, the captain said.
The battle occurred when the ship was three days off Liverpool. The submarine fired a torpedo which struck the freighter, but did not explode. The American gun crew fired 19 shells at the U-boat before she could submerge completely and at least one of these hit the mark squarely, wrecking the periscope and superstructure.

TWO SUFFRAGISTS ARRESTED; PICKETS ORDERED TO LEAVE

HEAVY HAND OF POLICE AT LAST
FALLS ON PICKETERS IN FRONT OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

(International News Service.)
Washington, June 22.—The heavy hand of the police at last fell upon the suffrage pickets at the White House today and as a direct result of the rioting there during the last two days, two suffragists were placed under arrest.
They were Miss Lucy Burns, of New York, and Miss Katherine Morey, of Boston. The arrests mark the first molestation of the pickets since they took their stand outside the mansion 253 days ago in an effort to convert President Wilson to the doctrine of national suffrage.
"The period of leniency with the suffrage pickets has passed. There will be no more picketing at the White House, the capitol or anywhere else."
This was the edict of the Washington police authorities. The prisoners were held at police headquarters for a short time and then released on their promise to appear when wanted.

SEN. WOOD WARNS OF FRIGHTFUL PLOT TO DESTROY PLANTS

(International News Service.)
Charleston, S. C., June 22.—General Wood's office today sent out warnings of plots said to be hatched by German agents to establish highly inflammable bombs in establishments engaged in national work.
The bombs are described as pyramidal in shape and are marked with the words: "Advance Special Cooked Beef, Frigericifo, Argentine," and carry the picture of an ox.

THE SPIRIT OF UNREST.

That expression, "the demon of unrest"—made famous in Alabama when applied to state conditions by a noted newspaper editor—seems to be pervading the world.

No sooner does Russia begin to set her house in order than discordant elements in Spain begin to make trouble for the established order. Ireland appears to be on the brink of another upheaval and while it may not be so troublesome as the one in which Roger Casement very justly forfeited his life, it will give the British something more to be harassed with. German internal conditions are veiled by the censorship. Austria—what of Austria?—all is not well with her. Her Polish delegates are far from satisfied. China is a seething cauldron of unrest. Greece is in an unspeakable turmoil. Unrest, groping for light, searching for truth, everywhere, all men.

All the nations of the world seem to be at war among themselves and their citizens with each other—all save the democracies of earth. France, the United States—only the handful of nations where there is no king and no kingly power and home rule are at peace with themselves. No dissensions of any kind are reported from France and as for the United States, we were never closer welded together in a common cause.

"A house builded upon the sands" might also be the scriptural description of a monarchy in these piping days of democracy. One never knows what the next day will bring forth. But one always knows that the world is slowly ridding itself of men who claim their rule by divine right and the world is slowly righting itself. There is still war, yes. But God's in his heaven and all is right with the world. He will finally banish war in His own good way.

THE CALL TO ARMS.

President Wilson has at last issued his proclamation calling for 70,000 volunteers. Although it was erroneously reported in April when the president went before congress that the call had come, this is the first call for volunteers that has been issued in this war.

The number of men called for by the president is small, although sufficient to fill the gaps in the regular army, if applied to that branch of the service. Because the number is small there should be an instant springing to arms all over America and the task should be a matter of a few days only. The call comes as an anti-climax in that the draft became a law before the call was issued, but now it has come.

If the men who are liable to the draft and apparently anxious to go to the front and having no dependents respond to this call remains to be seen. They will have to go finally. Why not go now? Why not be a "went," not a "sent"? Although in this connection it might be stated that because of the general draft law no odium will attach to the men who will be selected.

We who have boasted that "a million men would spring to arms overnight" when the call for volunteers came, now have a chance to prove our mettle.

AN ASININE PERFORMANCE.

The Pennsylvania House of Representatives recently erected a Pons Asinorum and then crossed over it when it unanimously passed a resolution forbidding the playing of the "Star Banged Banner" in motion picture houses because such playing is "slap-stick patriotism" and because it "cheapens the national anthem."

Did anyone ever hear of such silly twaddle!

A correspondent to the Atlanta Georgian has the following excellent answer to the asinine legislators:

Any American who says that playing the "Star-Spangled Banner" at any certain place is "slap-stick patriotism," or who hints that the common people are cheap skates whose lips degrade our people's war song, is not an American in spirit, but a snob, with the backbone of a jellyfish and the brains of a cream puff.

The man who refuses to allow citizens to plant gardens on his vacant and unused property certainly cannot be mindful of the dire need of the world for foodstuffs. The man who throws open his property to be used for gardens is patriotic. He appreciates the situation the people of the United States are facing and he is willing to do this as part of his "bit" toward winning the war.

Surely we have none in the Twin Cities who are allowing their property to grow up in weeds when it might be producing potatoes, beans or corn!

Would Cause Talk.

Exe—"Resign from the club, sell my automobile, and move into a cheaper house just because I've been losing a little money in stocks? I can't do that. It would make talk." Mrs. Exe—"It would, William. People would say you had done a sensible thing for once in your life."

Clay Duck of Antiquity.

A skillfully modeled clay duck was recently unearthed in excavations near Gezer. There is little doubt that this clay duck is older than the Testament records, but it is odd to note that nowhere in the Old Testament is there an allusion made to this fowl.

Speaking From Experience.

An actress paints for the center of the house. Judging from the thickness with which some women not of the stage lay on the rouge, they're painting for the first man that comes within a mile of 'em.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Chills and Fever Not Only Signs of Malaria

Throughout the South, the thought of chills and fever has been so constantly associated with malaria that many people think them the only sign of that disease.

But as a matter of fact, nearly everyone living in a southern climate is more or less affected with malaria, though comparatively few suffer with chills and fever.

Perhaps the most common symptom of malarial poisoning is that "all-in," listless, lifeless feeling. If you feel that way, especially at this time of the year, it will be well for you to take a few doses of Quinotone, a tonic prepared especially for the relief of malaria, and thus avoid the attack of chills and fever that might otherwise follow.

Quinotone is a pleasantly flavored vegetable preparation. It contains no arsenic or quinine sulphate, nor is it necessary for you to take calomel or blue mass with it. Yet it is more prompt in effect than many remedies containing those drugs.

Many of your neighbors have taken it. They will tell you how good it is, how pleasantly it acts. It is guaranteed to please you or your money cheerfully refunded.

You can buy Quinotone in big 50-cent packages at Dillehay Brothers or other good drug stores.

NOTE—Readers are advised to "insist upon genuine Quinotone—then they'll know they are getting the best remedy for their malaria or chills and fever.

NATURE FIXES NO AGE LIMIT

Man Who Lives Carefully Can Retain Vitality and Endurance Indefinitely, It is Claimed.

"Three score years and ten," tradition says, is the span of a human life. This must be divided into three periods to include preparation, efficiency and decay, each period lasting nearly 25 years. With the athlete, it is still more severe. Few men at thirty-five, it is said, have the reserve vitality and endurance that they had at twenty-five. Therefore the edict has gone forth that at thirty-five the athlete must let up in violent competitive work and gradually back out of the front ranks.

But there is no scientific evidence to show that this is necessary, says Popular Science Monthly. The human body is simply an assemblage of cells, which must be kept active; without being overstrained and nourished they are bound to decay. Under favorable conditions these cells will live indefinitely without showing signs of age or loss of vitality. Therefore the conclusion is reached that the "three score years and ten" are not fixed by any natural law, but rather by the conditions under which men live and by their personal habits. The athletic champion, then, who lives under the best hygienic conditions and observes the law of temperance in all things and at all times, should be able to "sit tight" on his pedestal so long as he desires.

If you need a clerk, salesman, stenographer or any kind of help, the quickest way is a Daily want ad.

GOING TOO FAR.

"Is this a model prison?" asked the visitor.
"Oh, yes," replied the cultured "lifer." "You should hear our prison band. Our baseball team is one of the best in the country, while our literary and debating societies are positively brilliant."
"Wonderful!"
"We are even planning to organize in cutting club to camp six or eight weeks every summer in the mountains near by, but the authorities are a trifle dubious about that."

Back Stage Repartee.
"I won't follow a trained chimpanzee," said the grand opera prima donna who was making her debut in vaudeville.
"Well, you can't make a monkey out of me," snarled the stage manager. "That's your spot on the bill. Take it or leave it."

Form of Egotism.
"A man should have civic pride," "But with limitations."
"Yes?"
"I don't especially admire a man who is proud of a town simply because he happens to be living in it."

THOUGHT DIDN'T INDICATE.

"He is a man of unusual sagacity, isn't he?"
"Well, I wouldn't want to say that; he is a married man."

OLD SOLDIER SAYS HE NOW FEELS LIKE GOING TO FRONT

"WHILE I AM BARRED BY AGE MY HEART IS RIGHT THERE," SAYS VETERAN.

"By the help of Tanlac I have gotten rid of the troubles that caused me so much suffering for the past several months, and I am now enjoying my health again," said T. M. Black, a Confederate veteran, living at the Old Soldiers' Home, Austin, Texas, recently.

"I glory in the spunk of the boys," he continued, "who are volunteering to defend the honor and good name of our great country. I feel like marching to the front myself, since taking this Tanlac, and while I am barred by my age from shouldering the gun, my heart is right there."

"I suffered from a kind of indigestion that caused me severe pain in the region of my stomach. I would go to bed sometimes, feeling fairly well, but would hardly get to sleep before I would wake with the most terrible pain, that would keep me in misery the rest of the night. The rheumatism was awful in my legs and hips and at times I could hardly go at all. It hurt me so bad I could hardly get in and out of my bed, and it was all I could do to get up out of my chair when I would sit down, especially if it was the least bit cloudy or damp."

"When I saw Tanlac recommended so highly I said, 'Well, that's the medicine for me.' I have now taken five bottles and my rheumatism is gone, and Tanlac gets the credit for my wonderful relief. I am now seventy years old and I've tried lots of medicine, but Tanlac beats them all. It has given me complete relief in every way. I have no more rheumatism, no more gas on my stomach, and will be glad at any time to tell anybody all I can about Tanlac. I wish everybody who has troubles like mine have been would only try a few bottles of Tanlac. They would soon see what a great medicine it is. If what I have said is not true I certainly would not put my name to the statement."

Tanlac is sold in Albany exclusively by Prent-Dillehay Drug Co.; in Decatur by Decatur Drug Co.; in Trinity by C. E. Young Drug Co.; in Flint by C. E. Poole & Co.; in Priceville by J. E. Matthews; in Somerville by W. T. Ransom, and in Danville by B. S. Stover.

An Unkind Cut.

"I visited the office of the High-brow Magazine the other day," said the poet, "and I never saw such beautiful waste-paper baskets, all decorated with pink ribbons." "So, that your lines may be cast in pleasant places, eh?" said the mean man.

Charlot as Engine of War.

Among some fancies of antiquity charlots may be regarded as filling the place of heavy artillery, so that the military power of a nation might be estimated by the number of its charlots. Thus Pharaoh in pursuing Israel took with him 600 charlots.

FOR A SAILOR'S KIT.

Here are some good warm mittens. By a Yankee they were knit. But with the best of feeling; And I'm sure I hope they'll fit.

A sweater, too, to keep you warm. When winds blow rough and cold; A scarf to wrap your ears about, And o'er your chest to fold.

And I hope the heart it shelters. For Uncle Sam beats true. And the hands that wear the mittens Are brave to dare and do.

These go to a Dixie battleship. But that matters not today; American blood by the Kaiser shed, Has washed that line away.

And today we all are Yankees. Yes, Yankees good and true. And we mean to show the Kaiser What the Yankees dare to do.

"For God, Home and Native Land," May your watchword ever be. And take your stand to live or die For the flag that made us free.

And if you should meet a comrade From the hills of old P-a. Just treat him as a brother. That's all I ask for pay.

Please don't think I am sentimental. Or gushing, young, and fair; There are lines of care upon my brow, There's silver in my hair.

But I honor the men who are leaving their homes. For "The Star-Spangled Banner" to fight.

Who risk their lives on land and sea, In a cause that is just and right.

And I wanted to add a word of cheer, To these garments that we send, And let you know that though a Yank I also am—A FRIEND.

GOURD FIRST NURSE BOTTLE

Specimens on Display in British Museum Seem to Be Also Rattler and Picture Book Combined.

Possibly a hollow gourd constituted the first baby's feeding bottle.

Torn from its parent tree, its edible interior would have found its way to the stomach of its adult plucker, after which the hollow shell would be filled with milk or other liquid refreshment for the satisfaction of the infant.

In tropical countries, again, the coconut would constitute a natural feeding bottle, already filled with the necessary nourishment.

Without, however, indulging in speculation of this kind it may be noted that the archaic vase room at the British museum contains specimens of feeding bottles—"tettinoe," archaeologists call them—dating back to between six and seven hundred years before Christ.

These very early babies' bottles are usually globular in shape, are elaborately decorated and are covered with small knobs which, it is conjectured, were used to hang tiny bells upon.

In short, the feeding bottle of those days was also a rattle and a picture book combined.

In saving her from being crushed by a falling tree he is badly injured, and is gotten to the hospital in a dying condition. COMPANY B WILL LEAVE SUNDAY TO UNKNOWN POINT GUARDS OF TENNESSEE RIVER BRIDGE ORDERED TO BREAK CAMP AT LAST.

Company B, Second Alabama Infantry, on guard duty here since April 9, will leave Sunday morning for Birmingham, it was learned here today from unofficial sources.

The marching orders were received by Capt. Hal F. Halstead of Company B, today. He was instructed to prepare to leave on Louisville & Nashville train No. 1 Sunday morning, it is said. The immediate destination of the company is Birmingham, but whether the company will finally go to Montgomery to mobilize with the remainder of the Second Infantry or be ordered direct to France within the next sixty or ninety days, could not be learned.

Since coming here Company B's officers and men have made themselves very popular with local citizens. A guard has been constantly kept on the Southern Railway bridge over the Tennessee river, near which the guardsmen camped. The company has been unusually free from sickness and death, only one accidental death and several minor injuries being reported.

The moving of the company from the bridge is in line with the war department's intention of concentrating the guard at mobilization points in preparation for active field work.

Eight Car Loads of Fords Sold Here in Last 30 Days

War and the high cost of living do not keep people from buying cars, according to the Burk Auto Company.

Not counting other kinds of cars sold this company has sold since May 28, eight carloads of Fords in the Twin Cities, five in Athens and one in Courtland.

The number of cars sold by the Ford Company during the month of May is given at 80,629 carloads.

Jersey Trees Full of Snakes. In the American Magazine is an account of a keen nature photographer who has confined his activities to New Jersey and eastern New York.

"One day, with a boy comrade, he was walking through the woods, and they were startled by the sight of a congregation of black snakes, which disappeared as if by magic. The boys hunted among the bushes until they were attracted by the sight of one snake hanging in loops from a tree; looking closely, they found that all of the snakes had sought concealment by crawling up trees, seeking the end of a branch and looping over to another tree, and they had their first lesson in the method by which snakes hide themselves and hoodwink their pursuers.

Twenty-Three. Various origins of the slang phrase "twenty-three" in connection with the word skidoo—which means to escape or vamoose—have been given at various times. The most interesting of these is that in the days of the old theatrical stock companies an actor would be given by a manager 18 parts to memorize in five weeks or be dropped from the salary list—18 and 5, you know, make 23. Another interesting explanation is that the expulsion of Adam from the Garden of Eden occurs in the third chapter of the book of Genesis in the twenty-third verse.

She Was On. Belle—And when he heard your father coming downstairs did you see his knees shake under him? Beulah—No, but I felt 'em shake under me.

Alleged Auto Thief in Trouble at Courtland

Courtland, Ala., June 22.—Chief of Police Crowe has arrested and locked up a negro suspected of having in his possession a stolen automobile.

The man, accompanied by a negro woman, drove a Buick roadster into a local garage last night to have a flat tire repaired. Marshal Crowe happened to come around and began to question the negro who became suspicious and jumped into the car before the tire was repaired, and started out. Crowe followed in another car and caught his man in Decatur, 20 miles away, bringing him back to Courtland last night. The car is a six cylinder roadster, comparatively new; there was no license tag on it and the factory number of the car had been removed. The initials that had been painted on each door had been scratched out and an effort had been made to remove the engine number. The negro claimed to be from Buffalo, N. Y., which place he claimed to have left last Tuesday morning.

FATHER EXPLAINS.

"Dad," said the gilded youth, "I lost a little money in a poker game last night and gave a check for it."

"Go on, son."

"As I don't happen to have quite enough money in the bank to meet that check, why—er—I naturally expected you would help me to make it good."

"What more natural, son?"

"So you will let me have, say, $300?"

"Oh, no, son. Not a penny. What I meant to imply was that you have gotten money from me in this way so often before that it has become a habit and nothing is more natural for a boy like you than to expect his father to continue getting him out of the hole indefinitely."

Severe Strain.

"Have you ever been able to put on a tire without profanity?"

"I tried it once, because there was a minister in our party," answered the motorist, "but I'll never expose myself to such a risk again."

"Was it dangerous then?"

"Very. I feared every moment that the effort I was making to keep from swearing would burst a blood vessel."

HOW MEANI.

Librettist—What do you think of my new musical comedy?

Critic—Beautiful. Who designed those lovely chorus dresses?

We Wet Not. Lives there a star upon the stage, Or idol of the movie screen, Who's never yet been photographed in touring car or limousine?

How She Felt. Mrs. Higgins—And so you have secured your divorce, I hear? Mrs. Wiggins—Yes, I'm glad to say that I have. Mrs. Higgins—How did you feel when you heard the judge's decision? Mrs. Wiggins—Well, I felt sort of unmanned, as it were.

Told the Truth. Knox—There goes young Cummings in Jay Greene's automobile. Crox—Why, I thought Cummings owned it. He told me not an hour ago that he had put all his money into one. Knox—Well, he probably told you the truth. He bought a gallon of gasoline before he started.

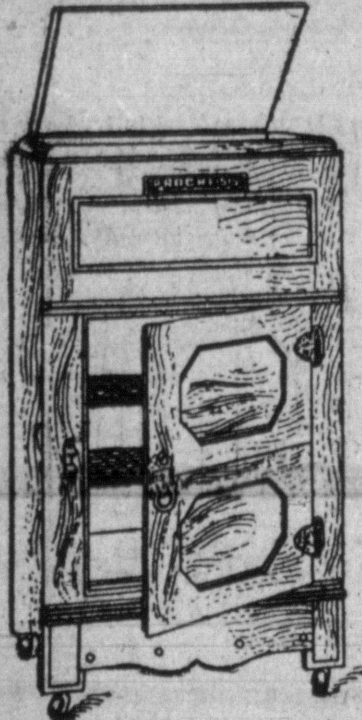

Fitness of Things. "I suppose," remarked the friend of the newly created husband, "the usual shower of rice fell as you entered the carriage." "No, it rained beans," he replied. "I married a Boston girl, you know."

Progress Sanitary All Metal Refrigerators

PROGRESS ALL METAL SANITARY REFRIGERATORS

Are made entirely of Heavy Apollo Galvanized iron and are doubled walled throughout. The space between the walls is air and water tight and is tightly packed with the best insulating material. This double insulation and their very tight construction, makes these refrigerators the best and most Economical and most Sanitary of all refrigerators. They have Nickel Plated Brass Hinges and Locks, Ball Bearing Rollers, Automatic Cast Drip Cups and Swinging Base Boards. Every inside part is instantly removable for cleaning. The Enamel is baked on in three coats under intense heat, insuring a very hard and durable surface. The Workmanship and Finish is of the Highest Grade and they are handsome and attractive in every way.

Their Superiority Over Wood Refrigerators

Being all Metal and of air tight construction, outside warm air is always excluded. The doors and lids always fit close, and are not affected by atmospheric conditions, or wet or dry climates. They can neither shrink, swell, warp, rust, mold or decay, and are always Fly, Roach and Bug proof. They are always absolutely odorless and sanitary and their air tight construction insures a perfect circulation of cold dry air in the provision chamber, which cannot be had in wood refrigerators, whose doors and lids soon become loose and ill-fitting, admitting warm air as well as flies and bugs.

Progress Refrigerators will consume 20% to 40% less ice than wood refrigerators of the same capacity in the Provision Chambers and will at the same time maintain a temperature several degrees colder. They will, with proper care last a lifetime and be tight, sanitary, odorless and economical all the time. They are as easily cleaned as a plate. The saving of ice alone will soon pay their cost. They will also save much food that is spoiled through poor refrigeration in loose wood refrigerators.

They are at least as low, if not lower in price than standard wood refrigerators of the same provision chamber capacity.

They will settle all refrigerator troubles for life and be sanitary all the time.
